To start we want to define YOUR "Superpower"

Your Superpower is the one problem that YOU can solve for people. It will typically address one of two things: Affording more pleasures in life or alleviating pains in life.

Think of turning points in your life. Rough times you've made it through. Life challenges that happen again and again –you manage to stay positive and beat them every time. Achievements and successes you've accomplished over time –professional or personal. Moments of epiphany (personal or professional) that resulted in a positive outcome and meaningful change in your life.

Consider yourself an expert in solving these problems or building specific successes.

Be Confident!
